NEWS from Washington is puzzling. It is said the U. S. plans to force the European debtors, if they fail to pay, to cut down their armaments.

First the U. S. lent them ten billion dollars, to complete the job of butchering each other. Now it plans to make them a part of the ten billion. They will cut down their armaments for a future butchery. Europe's plan is first to force the U. S. to cut down its armaments, then to force the U. S. to cut down its armaments, then to force the U. S. to cut down its armaments.

THE Colorado Psychopathic Hospital is studying a strange case of cannibalism. An unfortunate man, who was found in that condition in a corn field, his hallucination making him believe he was eating his own flesh.

CANADIAN PRESS
TORONTO, Oct. 12.—A special dispatch to the Toronto Globe from an Ottawa correspondent says: "Mr. G. Howard Ferguson, high commissioner for Canada in London, will leave for England on Wednesday of this week, with added authority conferred upon him by the Dominion government. He will now exercise considerable control over all Canadian government officials in the United Kingdom, and will be generally responsible for Canadian policies in the old country."

PREMIER SEES SALVATION OF TIME IN YOUTH

Mr. LaDouceur, who had made an assignment in bankruptcy to the receiver, said that many were owed money by him. One charge was laid and when the receiver was in bankruptcy he asked the magistrate referred the whole to the Toronto general department for investigation.

A comprehensive audit was made and other charges were laid against accused as a result.

Mr. Wrawley, who was endeavor to show in his evidence that his company of which Kuznyak was a director, had no connection with the case, said:

tion of which we have been proud and of which we have boasted on many occasions, in fact, on all occasions when opportunity afforded. That civilization is challenged; and the challenge is real."

RESPONSIBILITY STRESSED

Not for a moment, the prime minister continued, would he lessen the importance of remarks made on how world conditions might be saved. Nor

For a single moment would he do anything but express his entire agreement with them.

In the minds of the colleges there rested at this moment a great and awful responsibility—a responsibility of leadership—of giving this sick and diseased world after diagnosis a prescription to return to economic health.

"But I am one who has an incorruptible faith in the inspirations and aspirations of youth and in the illusions of youth," the Canadian government leader declared. "To the young neighbor" and the teachings of the master were followed, the world would be able to recover economic health. If Christian teachings and traditions were practiced, on the other hand, there could be no doubt of the future.

Oren D. Young, Eschenetady, chairman of the Board of the General Electric Company, who was likewise honored with the L.L.D. degree in today's ceremonies, declared the country was adequately furnished with men thoroughly versed in central banking problems. The author of the Young plan on reparations urged that ecology should turn men with larger economic outlook.

Miss Florence Marshall is Most Popular Model in Parade

With a total attendance for the week it has been open of around 30,000, the Prof. Moore's admission Exhibition at Riverview finally closed its doors on Saturday night after having earned $10,000. The exhibition, which drew a public sale, success having been attained in every feature.

During the attendance of the week is daily 10 per cent better than that of last year, according to the records of the Prof. Moore's admission Exhibition company, and at least 20 per cent more adults are included in the attendance. It is a fact that this year children were not allowed without being in charge of an adult.

Another interested feature is that the exhibition will also be a financial success. Although there has been no charge made for admission, Mr. Moore states that the accounts will balance.

The last fashion parade was held on Saturday night, and drew a large crowd. The attendance throughout Saturday ran to some $,000, a record day.

MISS MARSHALL WINS

Miss Florence Marshall proved to be the winner when the ballots for the most popular model were finally counted.

A ballot was taken on each night

"It is by far the best show that has been put on and there is no doubt that the Produce in Alberta exhibition is a firmly established annual event in the city now," says C. R. Morrison, president of the Edmonton Industrial Committee, which sponsors the exhibition.

"All the exhibitors appear to be highly satisfied," he added, "and Mr.

W. B. Douglas, chairman of the committee produced in Alberta committee, secretary Mr. H. P. McKee, and the members of the committee are to be congratulated upon the result of their efforts. A great deal of thought and attention has been given to the details of the exhibition, and it is highly satisfactory to know that the outcome has been so excellent.

A very pleasant feature of the exhibition, in the opinion of Mr. Morrison was the luncheon given to the

A meeting of the committee will be held in the course of a few days, when the standing of the exhibition will be reviewed and suggestions for the next exhibition considered.

THE MOST CONVINCING FIGHTER IN THE RACE

FALUN TRIUMPHS IN ANNUAL EVENT

George Butler is Second and Ernie Hoyrup Finishes Third

Slim, blonde Axel Karlsson, Swedish star from Falun, Alberta, whose mile-eating spirit never faltered for a moment, flashed to a surprising victory in the third round of the Edmonton Bulletin's annual fall-mile Thanksgiving Day road race yesterday morning. The former Swedish marathoner now located in the little settlement out of Wetaskiwin scored one of the most convincing triumphs in the history of the event when he finished nearly half a mile in front of the second finisher, George Butler, Edmonton's "Galloping Fireman," and a two-time winner of the beautiful Bulletin Trophy.

Karlsson covered the 10-mile distance in 39 minutes, 13.3 seconds, which is slightly better than the record time for the course, established by Butler in 1925.

Third to finish was Ernie Hoyrup, of Edmonton, followed by George Butler, St. John's, and fourth, Varsity man, crossed the finish line first and Ciro Denington, who runs in local track circles, finished fifth.

Hoyrup was closely followed by Helmer, but the run of the field, although it was with distance between them.

At the track of the pilot eight runners started out from Jasper from the north end of the track. The first runner to cross the finish line was Karlsson, who had a lead which he held to the finish. At no time was he in danger of losing the lead.

George Butler, who was running in the second half of the race, was in the order mentioned.

At the intersection of the St. Albert road and 113th street, Karlsson was in an extra-jump not marked on the race, but he still held the lead to the end of the race.

Between that point and 88 avenue, Karlsson was in the lead. He was followed by Butler, Hoyrup, Helmer, Denington, and Varsity man.

Edmonton Canadian Nationals Lose in Play Off for Alberta Soccer Crown

EDMONTON, ALBERTA OCT. 13, 1931

Believe It or Not - By Ripley

Well, we've just passed through one of the strangest events in the history of the world. It was a week-end for believers in "Big Game" football and the rest of the world. Despite the crowding of all the local events of the past couple of days, it seems you just could not escape the uses of this and that person who was in the fact that he had personally named the Mackinnon to win the "world" "wonder."

However, as it appears the best thing was said, I will have to be to admit it to do it in order to be furthered by the fact that he might otherwise risk to remind me that the history of the Athletics was not so good.

But, let's get on to something more pleasant. Of Edmonton gridders fans are riding high as a result of the "Big Game" which was played here last Saturday when the big blue and white team romped to a 12-0 victory in the game which was everything to them. With their backs to the wall, they showed that they had the fighting spirit necessary to lead a team which is not only a team but a team.

At the intersection of the St. Albert road and 113th street, Karlsson was in an extra-jump not marked on the race, but he still held the lead to the end of the race.

SHARKEY WINS DECISION OVER HUGE CARNERA

Wild Uproar When Jack Floors Primo in Fourth Round

Associated Press Sports Writer. LEBERTS FIELD, BROOKLYN, N.Y., Oct. 12.—The sports of France, Carnera's invincibility was blasted last night by Jack Sharkey, the slippy, quick of the heavy-weight class, in one of the greatest 18-round fights in the history of the sport since the last of the "Tomb" fight between the two Chicago five-year men.

While 30,000 thrilled spectators crowded to witness the fight, the slippy, quick of the heavy-weight class, in one of the greatest 18-round fights in the history of the sport since the last of the "Tomb" fight between the two Chicago five-year men.

Sharkey again was the grim, grim warrior of the days when his name was the most feared of all the slippy, quick of the heavy-weight class, in one of the greatest 18-round fights in the history of the sport since the last of the "Tomb" fight between the two Chicago five-year men.

EATON SQUAD TAKES THIRD GAME BY 3-0

Second Division Eleven Captures Honors for First Time

Karlsson covered the 10-mile distance in 39 minutes, 13.3 seconds, which is slightly better than the record time for the course, established by Butler in 1925.

Third to finish was Ernie Hoyrup, of Edmonton, followed by George Butler, St. John's, and fourth, Varsity man, crossed the finish line first and Ciro Denington, who runs in local track circles, finished fifth.

Hoyrup was closely followed by Helmer, but the run of the field, although it was with distance between them.

At the track of the pilot eight runners started out from Jasper from the north end of the track. The first runner to cross the finish line was Karlsson, who had a lead which he held to the finish.

George Butler, who was running in the second half of the race, was in the order mentioned.

At the intersection of the St. Albert road and 113th street, Karlsson was in an extra-jump not marked on the race, but he still held the lead to the end of the race.

Between that point and 88 avenue, Karlsson was in the lead. He was followed by Butler, Hoyrup, Helmer, Denington, and Varsity man.

Junior Varsity Gridders Score Convincing Victory Over Junior Esks By 7-1

Student Squad in Great Form to Capture Second

By JACK DUCHEY

Showing a complete reversal of form over that displayed in the opening game of the Edmonton Junior Esks, the Junior Varsity Gridders defeated the Esks by a 7-1 score.

The Gridders are at their best for this series, and should the American team live up to address senior there should be some great basketball.

Every one in a while a "dark horse" comes along to upset the odds in various sport affairs and this time it was the Junior Varsity Gridders who did it.

Between that point and 88 avenue, Karlsson was in the lead. He was followed by Butler, Hoyrup, Helmer, Denington, and Varsity man.

AMUSEMENTS

RIALTO

"Ten Nights in a Bar Room," now showing at the Rialto theatre, holds the interest of its audience chiefly because it does not lack spoken dialogue at any time interfere with the artistic capabilities of its experienced cast. Had an endless flow of words been introduced into the scene, much of its powerful dramatic appeal would have been lost.

The story is one of father love and a child's faith. Little Mary Morgan could not forget the time when her father was a kind and loving father to her, even though he had now become a confirmed drunkard. It was her father and that was all that mattered. The memory of those happier days, the best of her father, the little child out of her bed at night to go in search of her father, the being the only person that can die from him in his hidden past, her father in his end is rewarded but not until a tragic happening occurs which brings about her father's regeneration. The picture shows with a smiling fight between William Farnum and Thomas Satterlee, the old school burns over their heads.

Al Preston leading the Rialto Grand Orchestra and three acts of vaudeville rounds out a real good program.

EMPIRE

"The Heavens Fall" First National's adaptation of Arthur B. Reeve's popular novel, "The Heavens Fall," opened last night at the Empire theatre, before an appreciative audience.

The story is emotional and tremendously human—but it takes more than a fine story to make a fine play. The characters must be and act the part and this is one of the points of the picture. "The Heavens Fall" is a story.

Dorothy Mackaill portrays Margaret Nichols, the heroine of the story, as an unselfish, generous, and kind-hearted girl. Her recent characteristics in "The Heavens Fall" are more than impressive, for the vivid genius for interpretation which is hers, Margaret Nichols, adds the genius of suffering and the heights of happiness.

Joan Crawford will be seen at the Capitol theatre Wednesday in her latest picture, "The Modern Girl," adapted from the Mabel Chase novel, "The Modern Girl." It will be shown here for three days.

FEATURING SMART NEW CURTAINS

To Make Fall Home Decorating a Thing of Beauty and Worth-while Economy

More than a tangle of fall in the air these days—winter's just around the corner, and thoughts turn to re-decorating the home for the new season's use. From England and the continent, from our neighbors to the south and our own Canadian mills comes a collection of fabrics and lace such as we have never before had the pleasure of displaying. Heavy printed linens—lustrous silk moirés—chintzes and shadow cloths and other colorful draperies for the glass curtains you need too. Always you will find a courteous and efficient service in the department where these fabrics are displayed—a staff trained in the problems of Interior Decoration is at your disposal.

Gluttonous Trio Is Barred

FEEDBAG RACKET NOT SO HOT

Forever From Cruise Ships

HALIFAX, N.S. Oct. 12.—A new "racket" was exposed here last Sunday with the arrival of the cruise liner Mauretania, and three persons whose names were withheld were barred forever from travelling on the cruise ship to Halifax.

According to the story told by ship's officers the trio, a husband, wife and child, were barred from the ship's mess hall and dining room because of their excessive eating habits. The officers said that the trio had eaten up the food of other passengers and that they had been seen to throw away food.

Adding insult to injury the trio had been seen to throw away food. The officers said that the trio had eaten up the food of other passengers and that they had been seen to throw away food.
